

Liste complète des attributions et commentaires sur le Chemin de Moscou par millésime

1/6

| Millésime | Commentaire | Source | Auteur | Note / Pts |
|-----------|---|---|---|------------|
| 2021 | A blend of 68% Syrah, 25% Grenache and 7% Cinsault, the 2021 IGP Pays d'Oc Chemin de Moscou possesses a vibrant, elegant bouquet mingling aromas of red berries, blackberries, pepper, cherries, garrigue, licorice and violet. Delicately juicy and vinous, the wine on the palate is medium-bodied and perfectly balanced with fine-grained tannins and a lively, fresh finish. It has a real potential to improve in the cellar over the next 3-4 years. | Robert Parker | Yohan Castaing | 91 |
| 2020 | Bresaola, roses and cherry-liqueur chocolate. A breath of char. The Syrah gives this wine a deeply savoury undercarriage – leather and roast beef – and the muscle of the tannins. Grenache brings roses, strawberries and silk. Cinsault sprinkles the finish with white pepper and dried thyme and you can taste its sweet-chorizo tang at the very end along with a lavender-fresh fragrance and lift. It's true to its place and its grapes and has metronomic balance. | Jancis Robinson, MW | Tamlyn Currin 06.09.2023 | 17/20 |
| 2020 | I have seen this wine develop and evolve since the very first vintage in 2004. A fruitier style than examples from the earlier years with less oak and more ageing in concrete than before. The result is a more forward style, approachable earlier with very fresh black cherry and strawberry notes, Chinese spice and black pepper. This is a very elegant Chemin de Moscou almost Rhône like, complex yet extremely drinkable. Glad to see the 4% Cinsault is still there. | Languedoc Roussillon 2023 Special Report | Matthew Stubbs MW pour Tim Atkin MW | 93 Pts |
| 2019 | This is full-throated cherry song, shining-glossy-gleaming with the pure joy of the fruit tumbling, laisser-aller, out the glass. Tannins that feel like the iridescence of pheasant feathers. Pomegranate soprano, sumac spice on the alto with a lick of milk chocolate, rose petals dipped in mica dust on the tenor and petrichor on the bass. A subtle, shimmering gradation of flavour and a finish that ripples out in ever-widening circles like a pebble thrown into a still lake. | Jancis Robinson, MW | Tamlyn Currin 12.02.2022 | 17.5/20 |
| 2018 | Jammy blackberries ram-packed on the nose and palate and with all that yummy palms-up, happy conviviality of fruit you'd think this wine was simple but that would be a big mistake. This might be fruit forward, but it is a seriously interesting, dense, exciting, long power-ram of a wine. | Jancis Robinson, MW | Tamlyn Currin 20.05.2021 | 17/20 |

Liste complète des attributions et commentaires sur le Chemin de Moscou par millésime

2/6

| Millésime | Commentaire | Source | Auteur | Note / Pts |
|-----------|--|------------------------|----------------------------------|------------|
| 2017 | This offers concentration and elegance, with dark cherry and crushed red plum notes infused with anise and baking spices. Syrah blend. | Wine Spectator | Gillian Sciaretta | 91 pts |
| 2017 | A heady mix of hedgerow fruits, bramble and summer berries following through on the palate to a juicy and really lively concoction of red cherries, jammy blackcurrants and stewed strawberries. These combine with black pepper, hints of cinnamon and soft touches of violets to create a complex and generous mix of flavours. It has a wonderfully soft texture but at the same time is brimming with so much freshness and zing. You also don't feel the 14.5% ABV at all. From old vines, certified organic. | Decanter | Georgie Hindle Jan. 2021 | 93 Pts |
| 2017 | Rich cherry and chocolate nose. Glorious stuff. The fruit sings opera – full-throated, from the depths of its soul, triumphant, full of glory. Holding every note, high and low, with absolute precision and purity. Ripe, velvety cherry and damson fruit on the palate, mocha, sweet souk spices, a touch of orange peel and a now-it's-there-now-it-isn't drift of old mahogany furniture that has been lovingly hand-polished a thousand times. And then this astounding freshness that fills the mouth from beginning to end. It's so generous and open-armed that you could almost drink this without realising how complex it is, and how extraordinarily beautiful the texture is – it feels like a rose petal. | Jancis Robinson, MW | Tamlyn Currin 30.07.2020 | 17.5/20 |
| 2017 | Domaine Gayda makes some excellent wines, with this perhaps its best. A blend of 70% Syrah, 24% Grenache and 6% Cinsault, this is loaded with meaty, spicy, dark fruits and a lingering violet perfume. Aged in a mix of new barrels and old demi-muids, this spends 21 months in wood, adding finesse to the tannins. A fine wine, which shows what the IGP Pays d'Oc is capable of. | Decanter | Andy Howard, MW Jun. 2020 | 93 Pts |
| 2017 | It is a lovely glass of wine. Quite deep young colour. Fresh red fruit and spice on the nose, with a little pepper. Harmonious and rounded palate, with fruit and spice. Elegant youthful tannins making for ageing potential. The oak is well integrated. A ripe but fresh finish. | | Rosemary George, MW Feb. 2020 | |

Liste complète des attributions et commentaires sur le Chemin de Moscou par millésime

3/6

| Millésime | Commentaire | Source | Auteur | Note / Pts |
|-----------|---|--|-----------------------------------|------------|
| 2017 | Bresaola and violets, meaty yet not heavy, scented yet not flowery, with a touch of black slate powder and black pepper on the nose. Beautiful structure! The tannins have that seemingly-cool-yet-highly-alert power, stillness and panther grace of professional body guards at the top of their game. Exquisitely ripe, coal-dusted dark fruit that is imbued with the warmth of the Languedoc yet restrained, elegant, satin-and-mineral lined. Long, understated, and completely delicious. A stunning wine. GV (TC) | Jancis Robinson, MW | Tamlyn Currin 19.01.2020 | 17/20 |
| 2017 | Gold Medal + Best Organic Red Wine France 2020 | Grand International Organic Wine Award | MUNDUS VINI BIOFACH | |
| 2016 | Concentrated but focused, with blackberry and currant fruit flavors flanked by tea, licorice and savory spice details. Syrah blend. | Wine Spectator - Issue 15-11-2019 | | 90 pts |
| 2016 | Gold Medal—Summer Tasting 2019 | Summer Tasting 2019 Grand International Wine Award | MUNDUS VINI | |
| 2015 | This red embodies both power and elegance, with a minerally spine cutting into the steeped cherry, fresh red plum and blackberry fruit flavors heightened with tea, licorice and violet details. Offers a long, plush finish. | Wine Spectator - Issue 31-3-19 | | 91 Pts |
| 2015 | Élu Cuvée Ambassadrice Chemin de Moscou 2015 | Pays d'Oc Collection 2018 | | |
| 2015 | Médaille d'or / Gold Medal | Challenge Millésime Bio 2018 | | |
| 2014 | Gold Medal and 'Best of Show Pays d'Oc' Summer Tasting 2017 | Summer Tasting 2017 Grand International Wine Award | MUNDUS VINI | |
| 2014 | Deep crimson. Rich and refined. Not overdone and very appetising. A hint of salt and treacle. Very suave and polished. Quite rich but very appetising too. Good to see this important wine evolving with the times. Good freshness. | | Jancis Robinson, MW 04.09.2017 | 17/20 |
| 2014 | Warm, spicy nose. Transparent and grainy with lift and some real excitement, This seems to have lightened up from earlier vintages. Obviously superior but the price is not too ambitious. | | Jancis Robinson, MW | 17/20 |

Liste complète des attributions et commentaires sur le Chemin de Moscou par millésime

4/6

| Millésime | Commentaire | Source | Auteur | Note / Pts |
|-----------|--|--|--------------------------------|--------------------------|
| 2013 | Élu Cuvée Ambassadrice Chemin de Moscou 2013 | Pays d'Oc Collection 2016 | | |
| 2013 | Neat, complex nose - serious ! Concentration of fruit too. | | Jancis Robinson, MW 21.09.2015 | 16,5/20 |
| 2013 | De topcuvée van Gayda,eindproduct van zeer lage rendementen. Vloeibare finesse,met na de intense inktkleur vooral een massa kruidig zwart fruit,karamel,violet en peper.Verrassend fijn en fluwelijk qua smaak,met impressies van zwarte peper, kaneel,een tsunami van rijpe rode/zwarde bosbessen,een beheerde eiktoetsplus tevens evenwichtige zuren. Minerale finale. Rosbief,duifje,fazant/patrijs of filet pur: deze wijn is er klaar voor. | Klare Wijn Wijnhandel De Kok 10.07.2009 | Franc Van der Auwera | 17/20 |
| 2013 | Moving to the 2013s, the 2013 IGP Pays d'OC Chemin de Mooscou is mostly Syrah, yet incorporates 30% Grenache and splash of Cinsault, like the Figure Libre Freestyle cuvee, it comes from multiple Languedoc and Roussillon appellations and a variety of terroirs. Aged 21 months in barrel, it has lots of minerality to go with a core of sweet black cherry fruit, licorice and dried herbs. Forward, sexy and a borderline fruit bomb, it's already hard to resist, and I see no need to hold off. It should continue to offer plenty of pleasure over the coming 4-5 years. | #224 The Wine Advocate, Robert Parker 2016 | Jeb Dunnuck | 89 Pts |
| 2012 | An outstanding effort, the inky purple colored 2012 Chemin de Moscou checks in as a serious blend of 62 % Syrah, 32 % Grenache and 6 % Cinsault that spent 21 months in barrel; the Syrah in new oak and the Grenache and Cincault in 1-2-year-old barrels. It has a rocking bouquet of sweet black raspberry, crème de cassis, licorice, crushed flowers and sweet spice. This give way to a medium to full-bodied, pure, elegant effort that has terrific purity of fruit, no hard edges, and a clean, focused finish. Count me as a fan, and this is a rock solid bottle of wine that will drink nicely for 5-6 years, probably longer. | #218 The Wine Advocate, Robert Parker 2015 | Jeb Dunnuck | 91 Pts |
| 2012 | Nez riche, puissamment fruité, agrémenté de notes d'eucalyptus, violette, épices douces, bouche voluptueuse, savoureuse, intense, dotée d'une grande profondeur et d'une belle fraîcheur. Gros potentiel. Plein de charme, très racé. | Guide des Vins 2016 Bettane & Desseauve | | 17/20 |
| 2011 | Le millésime 2011 confirme tout le bien que nous pensons de cette cuvée. Nez puissant, richement fruité, confiture de mûre, notes d'épices et de violette, toute la complexité de la syrah majoritaire, bouche voluptueuse, ample, avec une trame savoureuse, du fruit et une grande vivacité, Grande bouteille au caractère affirmé. | Guide des Vins 2015 Bettane & Desseauve | | 16/20 + COUP DE COEUR |

Liste complète des attributions et commentaires sur le Chemin de Moscou par millésime

5/6

| Millésime | Commentaire | Source | Auteur | Note / Pts |
|-----------|--|--|--------|---------------------------------------|
| 2011 | Chemin de Moscou is rated one of the top 10 best Languedoc wines | VIVINO.COM 2016 Wine Style Awards | | |
| 2011 | Élu Cuvée Ambassadrice Chemin de Moscou 2011 | Pays d'Oc Collection 2014 | | |
| 2010 | Très tonique, cette cuvée offre de jolis arômes de fruits noirs, de poivre et de résineux, une bouche charnue et agréable. | Guide des Vins 2014 Bettane & Desseauve | | 14/20 |
| 2009 | « ...d'une remarquable régularité. Une verticale de cette cuvée a récemment montré que la propriété évolue dans le bon sens. » « Grande cuvée, nette dans ses arômes, fraîche et élancée dans un millésime chaud et très mûr. La cuvée est en progrès, et fait partie des grands languedocs. » | Guide des Vins 2013 Bettane & Desseauve | | 16/20 |
| 2009 | La proportion importante de syrah renforce la présence poivrée qui complexifie la cuvée. Elle épice des fruits très mûrs. C'est une cuvée de référence du domaine, et en IGP Oc. | Guide des Vins 2012 Bettane & Desseauve | | 16/20 |
| 2008 | Élu Cuvée Ambassadrice Chemin de Moscou 2008 | Pays d'Oc Collection 2011 | | |
| 2008 | Trophée du meilleur assemblage de Syrah dans le concours du TOP 100 IGP annoncé à la London International Wine Fair 2011 | TOP 100 IGP | | |
| 2008 | Trophy for the Best French IGP and Gold Medal | International Wine Challenge 2011 | | |
| 2007 | Une belle intensité aromatique sur les fruits noirs avec une touche fumée. Caractère riche, dense, trame veloutée, ce vin mûr à la finale chocolatée, a conservé une bonne fraîcheur. Harmonieux facile d'accès sans rien de flatteur, très beau vin. | La Revue du Vin de France, Juin 2008 NUMÉRO SPÉCIAL, MILLESIME 2007 EN LANGUEDOC | | Vins rouges entre 17,5 et 15,5 sur 20 |
| 2007 | 2007 montre une expression aboutie de cette cuvée, certes un peu marquée par le poivre pour l'instant mais le fruit reprendra la primauté. La puissance a été domestiquée et se montre affable. Bien plus accessible au consommateur, la doctrine moscovite s'occidentalise avec ce 2007. | Le Grand Guide des Vins de France 2011 Bettane & Desseauve | | 16/20 |
| 2007 | De grand puissance, avec un fruit bien mûr et des tanins gourmands. Large bouche, il approche de son apogée. | Le Grand Guide des Vins de France 2013 Bettane & Desseauve | | 15,5/20 |

Liste complète des attributions et commentaires sur le Chemin de Moscou par millésime

6/6

| Millésime | Commentaire | Source | Auteur | Note / Pts |
|-----------|--|---|--|------------|
| 2007 | Situated southeast of Carcassonne at Brugairolles, Domaine Gayda possesses 11ha (27 acres) of vineyard here, with a furthe 8ha (20 acres) in Minervois and a network of suppliers in other parts of the Languedoc. Gayda's young French winemaker, Vincent Chansault, met co-owners Tim Ford (an Englishman) and Anthony Record (a South African) while he was working at Boekenhoutskloof in Franschoek, South Africa. The Gayda Chemin de Moscou is a rich, savoury Syrah/Grenache blend with a touch of Cinsault. Chemin de Moscou is a smooth but powerful Syrah-dominated blend. | The Wine Opus (2010) 21st Century reference to more than 4000 of the world's greatest wineries and their wines | | |
| 2007 | Classé parmi les 100 meilleurs vins de France. Il a notamment obtenu la distinction du 4ème meilleur vin rouge du Languedoc-Roussillon et classement général : 37ème (note 94/100) « Un vin qui regarde son dégustateur dans les yeux, car il n'a pas peur de l'impressionner. » | Les Meilleurs vins de France 2011 (Guide Lafont presse) | | 94 Pts |
| 2006 | * Starred wine - Packed with dark fruit, spices and some meaty notes, good structure, balanced and rich body, good length. | The Wine Guide (2009) Third edition | Andreas Larsson, Meilleur Sommelier du Monde 2007 | |
| 2006 | Rouge avec de la profondeur, une réelle complexité en finale. Fermé comme l'est le 2005, une petite garde lui serait idéale. | Le Grand Guide des Vins de France 2011 Bettane & Desseauve | | 15/20 |
| 2006 | Mouthfilling. Rich and round. Very much salon-Syrah. Polished. Very fine. Savoury. Third vintage. | | Jancis Robinson, MW 10.07.2009 | 17/20 |
| 2005 | «...de la tenue et du fruit. Plus ambitieuse, la cuvée Chemin de Moscou (qui évoque furieusement la Petite Sibérie d'Hervé Bizeul...), 50 % syrah, 40 % grenache, est issu de La Livinière et affiche un matière généreuse, sophistiquée, aux tanins fins et précis. Un peu court en saveurs, mais très bien fait.» | La Revue du Vin de France, Février 2008 Salon VINISUD Les jeunes talents à découvrir | | 16/20 |
| 2005 | Style tout en puissance, réglisse forte, le vin s'est refermé mais les fondamentaux de fraîcheur, de qualité de tanin et de fruit sont là. À attendre. | Le Grand Guide des Vins de France 2011 Bettane & Desseauve | | 16/20 |
| 2004 | There's impressive depth and intensity to the crushed red fruit flavors, which are accented by pepper and plenty of mineral and dark chocolate accents. Finishes firm, with notes iron and garrigue. Syrah, Grenache and Cinsault. | Wine Spectator 31.08.2007 | Kim Marcus | 90/100 |